

RICHARD OSALIYA SUCCESSFULLY DEFENDS HIS PHD THESIS

Mr. Richard Osaliya successfully defended his PhD thesis titled: “Impact of Land Use/Cover and Climate Change on Surface Water Resources in Semi-Arid Lokok and Lokere Catchments, Uganda” during a virtual oral examination convened by the Faculty of Agriculture on November 3, 2021. Richard was registered in the Department of Land Resource Management & Agricultural Technology (LARMAT). Dr. Oliver Vivian Wasonga (LARMAT), Prof. Geoffrey Kironchi (LARMAT) and Prof. Mwonjololo Majaliwa (Makerere University) have supervised his thesis work.

Mr. Richard Osaliya

Dr. Oliver Vivian Wasonga

Prof. Geoffrey Kironchi

Prof. Mwonjolo Majaliwa

Richard will be required to revise his thesis based on the recommendations from the committee of examiners, and submit the final thesis for approval and award of the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Dryland Resource Management of the University of Nairobi.

Congratulations Richard Osaliya